WASHINGTON PARK, BROOKLYN, May 21.-After being treated to three defeats by Johnny McGraw's giants. Fred Clarke escorted his troupe of husthing young Pittsburg ball tossers to these grounds this afternoon, where they tackled Ned Hanlon's Trolley Dodgers for the first time this season. The Pirates were in anything but a they experienced at the hands of the Giants, and they were determined to take it out on the Trolley Dodgers.

That the four games the Smoky City growd plays the Trolley Dodgers will be bitterly fought as those they had with the New Yorks there can be no doubt Both teams always play the hardest kind of a game when they meet, as they take delight in beating each other The Trolley Dodgers in their series with Kelley's Reds showed a great improve ment in their work, and Manager Han lon promises to hand out another bruc of defeats to the Smoky City crowd.

With the hope of taking the first game, Hanlon selected young Schmidt. is California find, to unload his collection of benders at the Pirates. Schmidt has been twirling with good success for the Trolley-Dodgers, and, as his delivery is just the kind that generally fools the Pirates, Hanlon looked for victory.

Fred Clarke was equally confident. He telt that "Roaring Bill" Kennedy was That Kennedy is just as popular with the fans in this borough as he was when Le twirled for Hanlon's crowd was clearly demonstrated by the ovation he received from the rooters when he came on the heid. As the Pittsburgers are a good drawing card in this city, the rooters turned out in great numbers to see them line up against the Trolley Dodgers.

This being ladles' day, the fair sex came to the grounds in droves, there being 500 of them in the grand stand when the teams began their tussle.

Promptly at 4 o'clock the bell rang and the game started, with over 3,000 people present.

BOTHNER MEETS PARDELLO

ON THE MAT TO-NIGHT.

So infatuated is George Bothener, the lightweight champion of the world, with wrestling that he has reconsidered his idea to abandon the game of meeting big men on the mat To-night the champion will engage his old rival, Leo Par-dello, the Italian champion, in a fifteenminute bout at the London Theatre on the Bowery. The pair met recently, and Pardello failed to down the little man in an hour of work on the mat, considered by experts to have been one of the greatest bouts of the year. Pardello believes and is willing to back his statement that he can throw Bothner once in fifteen minutes, and will lose $50 if he fails in his attempt to-night. All holds in this match will be allowed.

That's Pardello's advantage. Bothner is in fine shape, and there is no questlon that the very best bout of the many seen on the Bowery in years will be in order when Pardello and Bothner get together.
